TWO EVERGREEN PLACE

Winnipeg 13, Manitoba

1925-67

While Canada is observing its Centennial, the Winnipeg Bible College marks its 43rd year.

The purpose of the Winnipeg Bible College is closely related to its history. The need for more evangelists and trained Christian leaders during the first half of the first century of Canada's existence was obvious, but the question of where to secure this leadership was a real problem.

The Winnipeg Bible Training School, as it was initially called, was brought into being on January 4, 1925 under the direction of Rev. H. L. Turner. Twenty-four students enrolled in the day and evening classes during that first year.

The next fall the Rev. Percival Cunday became Dean of Faculty and organized the school more completely. A group of 26 day students gathered together to begin a class in the center of the city in a small building. In 1928 the name of the school was changed to Winnipeg Bible College; and again in 1929 to Winnipeg Bible Institute to become more closely identified in name and function with the great Bible Institute movement of that day.

Incorporation by a special act of the Manitoba Legislature in 1948 gave the school the "right, power, and privilege... to grant degrees in theology..." In 1964 the Manitoba Legislature allowed the name of the school to become the "Winnipeg Bible College" again, so that its name would be more in keeping with its purpose and practice.

Time, however, hasn't changed the purpose of the Winnipeg Bible College. It continues to be as it was originally: "...to give systematic instruction in the Word of God, to promote the deepening of the spiritual life, and to train young people for practical Christian service."

To accomplish this task, a strong emphasis is placed upon the English Bible, with 26 semester hours being the absolute minimum for any major. As the student is instructed in the Word of God and related courses such as Personal Evangelism, Missionary Principles, Bible Interpretation, Bible Doctrine and Greek (the original language of the New Testament), there will be the promotion of the deepening of his spiritual life. It is required that the student of the College also take The Educational Program of the Church, Public Speaking, Homiletics and Principles of Teaching, to enable him to impart Christian truth to others. So that the student may effectively meet and minister to the world in which he lives, Sociology, World History, Cultural Anthropology, Philosophy, and Psychology are a part of his discipline.

To meet the needs of today, to provide training and preparation for advanced theological studies, and to continue personal growth, Winnipeg Bible College seeks to challenge and to equip young men and women for leadership by the use of the Word of God and by the ministry of the Holy Spirit working in the individual life.

Mr. Eichhorst, wife Pat and son Mark.

Dedication

To express the thankfulness of the students of Winnipeg Bible College, the King's Herald is dedicated to a servant of the Lord.

We have been impressed by the stewardship of our Dean of Students and make this presentation as a symbol of our recognition.

"For distinguished service" it is our desire and pleasure to ask Mr. William R. Eichhorst to accept the 1967 edition of the King's Herald.

"...doing the will of God from the heart; with good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men."

Ephesians 6:6b, 7

"I really don't have time to sit down."

"Now they'll know it's posed!"

Meet the President

Past blessings out to challenge us to new attainments for God. As the yearbook emphasizes the history of Winnipeg Bible College in this centennial year, the guidance of God is evident. Even as the need for dedicated, well-trained Christian workers is greater than it was when the college was founded, Christian young people today are accepting this challenge.

I trust that as you examine this yearbook you will be impressed with the dedication evidenced in the lives of students, faculty, staff and board and that you will sense that God is continuing to "make history" as He blesses the College.

The Christian life is one of personal fellowship with Christ and vital service for Him. This yearbook will portray the joy of this life as it is experienced at Winnipeg Bible College.

Behind the Scenes at W.B.C...

Name _____

The WBC counselling program is organized to provide each student with a faculty counsellor. He will be available to give counsel on matters of study habits, personal problems, spiritual development, or any other suggested need.

It should be clearly understood, however, that any student may feel free to counsel with any other faculty member if he should desire to do so. You will, of course, want to see the department head for particular counsel (eg. the President on administrative questions, the Registrar on matters of grades and courses, etc.).

The purpose of assigned counsellors is to assure that personal matters may also receive proper attention.

The name of your counsellor is _____

"Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on Him in Whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in Him of Whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?" (Romans 10:13-14)

These questions asked by the Apostle Paul should be the concern of every Christian. There are millions of men, women, and children, in far-off places, and here at home, who have never heard the Gospel message of God's wonderful love and grace revealed in Jesus Christ!

We, as students have spent many hours learning truth from God's Word. However, I hope that the message of the Bible has not stopped with mere head knowledge, but, that it has also penetrated to our very heart and soul. It is my prayer that God has given each one of us a passion for the souls of mankind so that we may answer the questions, posed by Paul, with a confident, "Here am I Lord, Send me!"

which is in heaven.
 14 And as Mō'sēs lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:
 15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.
 16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
 17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.
 18 He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.
 19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.
 20 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be revealed.
 21 But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, which are done in truth.
 22 For God is light, and he that walketh in darkness hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be revealed.
 23 But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, which are done in truth.
 24 For God is light, and he that walketh in darkness hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be revealed.
 25 But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, which are done in truth.

Editorial

We are thankful for such Bible portions as the one above. Without God's provision we have nothing lasting. Therefore it is with thankfulness to God that this volume is being published.

It is our desire to let you know something of the college life at WBC as well as to introduce, in the next few pages, our student body. We also wish to convey our testimony of God's goodness to us.

If these three things are achieved in your perusing these pages, we will feel well rewarded in our endeavour as the King's heralds.

Student Assembly Chapels...

On each Friday of every week the regular chapel session is given over to student assembly. These chapels are conducted by Jim Burnes and Gunner Anderson. Different pastors of the area speak, films are shown, or other students participate. Each time, an offering is taken toward the support of missionaries, Ed and Joyce Peasgood, and Ken Barron.

Occasionally, these chapel sessions may include hymns and times of testimony.

The variety of the Friday period is refreshing.

The Theological Lectures...

Dr. John C. Whitcomb Jr.

Dr. Whitcomb (Th. D.) is professor of Old Testament and Director of Post Graduate Studies at Grace Theological Seminary, Winona Lake, Indiana.

He has long been interested in the relationship of scientific studies to the Bible. This was especially evident in the presentation of his lectures at Winnipeg Bible College. He is noted for his adherence to the accuracy of Scripture and for his ability to aid young people in resolving some of the apparent conflicts between Science and the Bible.

Perhaps a glance at Dr. Whitcomb's topics for the lectureship will illustrate the intensive study he has done in this area. These were as follows:

Modern Science and Biblical Miracles

How May We Defend the Bible?

Genesis and Evolution

The Creation of the World

The Creation of Adam and Eve

The Flood and the Final Judgment

What is Man?

The Original Perfection of the World

The Flood and Modern and Modern Geology

Throughout the course of the lectures many interested friends, alumni, and pastors took the opportunity to visit the college. Dr. Whitcomb's messages showed to those who heard him, that the Biblical approach to creation is not only logical, but necessary for the Christian in his understanding of Genesis.

Missions at M.B.C...

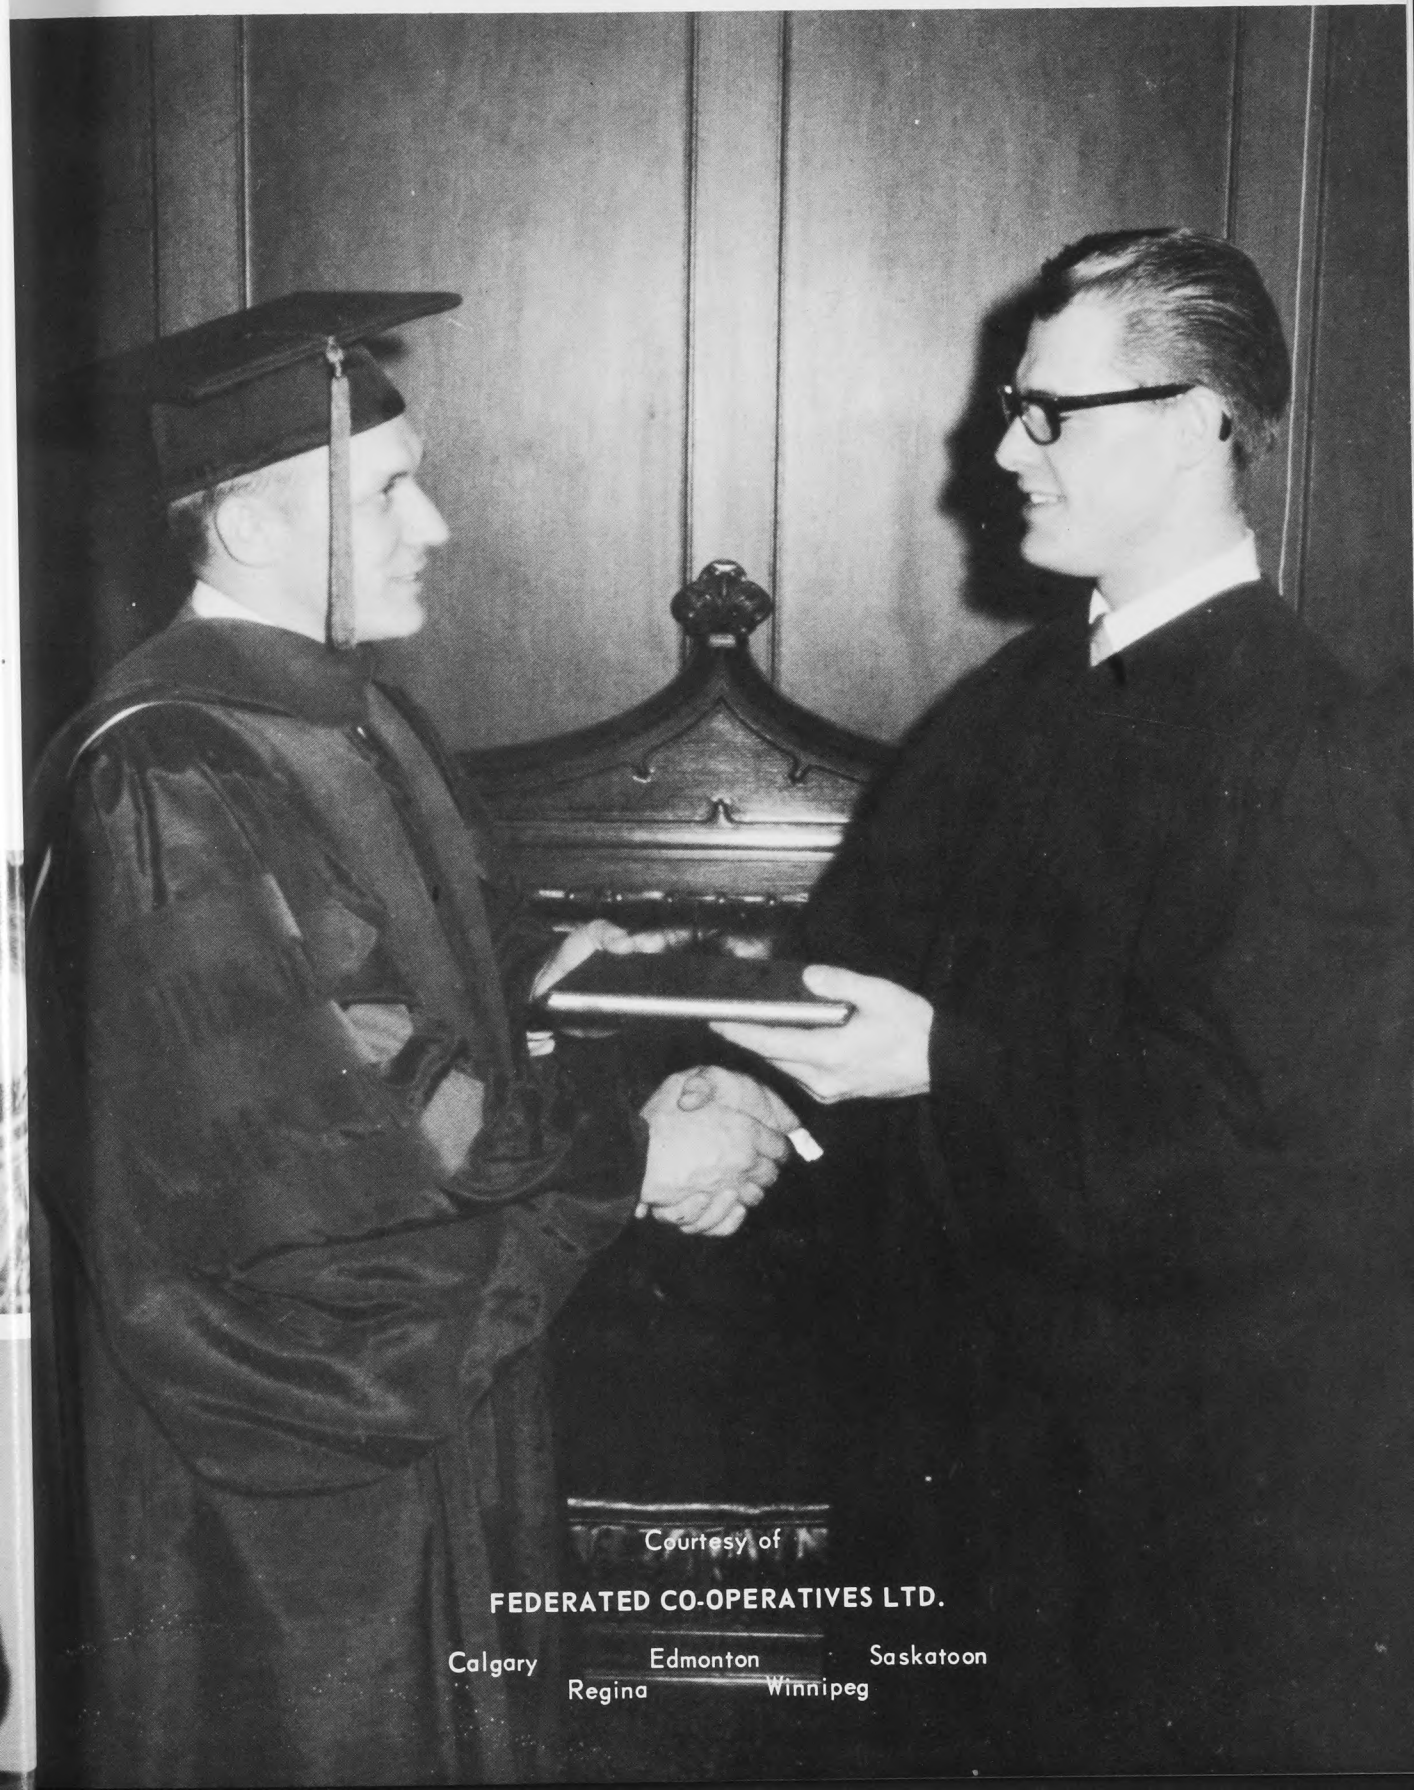

The highlights of the year mission-wise were threefold. Each student enjoyed the monthly "dinners" sponsored by the separate prayer bands. With each meal, a short program was presented illustrating the need for missions in that particular area, country or continent.

Secondly, weekly offerings were taken in chapel to support Ed and Joyce Peasgood, and Ken Barron, as they train for full time missionary service. This endeavour by the student body was the 1966-67 Missionary Project.

On March 1-3, we enjoyed our annual missionary conference. Panel discussions, messages, and films were a large part of the activities during the three days. "God's Imperative," "Human Instruments" and "Total Involvement" formed the theme.

PRELIMINARY GUIDE TO CAMPUS DEVELOPMENT

GENERAL PHILOSOPHY

1. Building materials should be planned for permanent construction. Economy should be sought wherever possible, where quality and appearance are not sacrificed.
2. The Master Plan and buildings should be imaginative and distinctive, utilizing the esthetic qualities of the location, while remaining conservative enough for economic construction.
3. Consideration should be given to a central heating unit for the entire campus.

DORMITORY FACILITIES

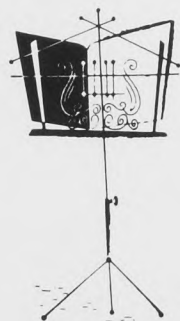

A. GENERAL PRINCIPLES

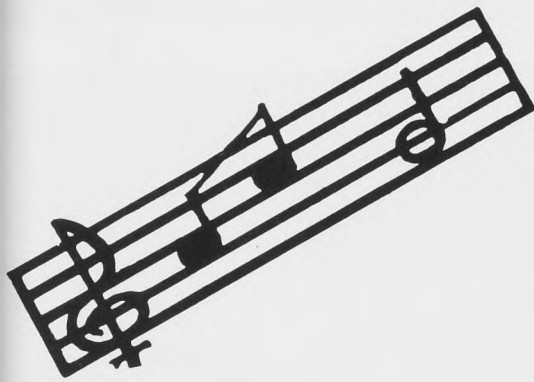

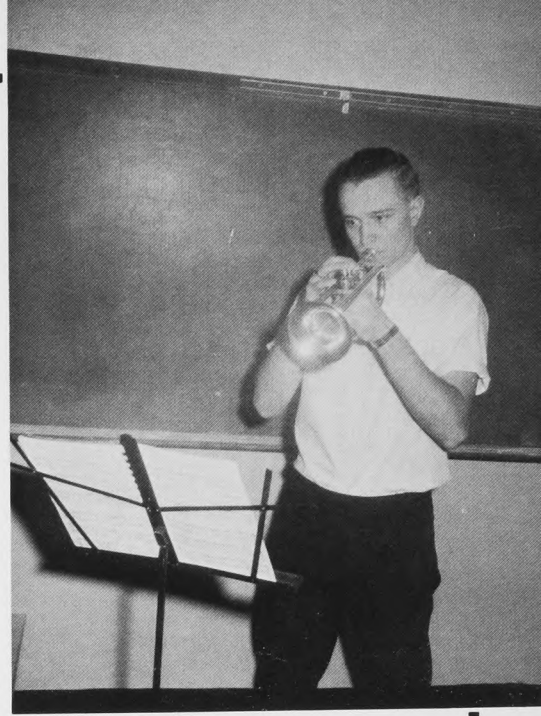

1. The dormitories should accommodate approximately fifty students each.
2. Two dormitories should be planned for the first stage. A third should be in the immediate plans and be added as soon as the need warrants it - possibly by the fall of 1968.
3. Plans should allow for expansion of boys' and girls' dormitory facilities within each given area of development.
4. While the boys' and girls' dormitories should be kept separate, they should be joined to a common lounge and food services area.
5. It would be advantageous to have room arrangements suitable for single students but easily adaptable for married students - at least on a temporary scale. (Two rooms joined by one bath could accommodate 4 single students or one couple. For single students, this arrangement would also limit hallway traffic and commotion.)

How do you build a great country? Time and pride and people. This is what has made Canada the country that it is today.

People like — Laurier, MacKenzie, St. Laurent, Sir John A. Macdonald — all of our country's people have helped to make Canada a leader among the nations of the world. Today, we find ourselves on the threshold of our country's 100th year — to help you celebrate this occasion it is our sincere pleasure to introduce to you a picture story of Canada's past and how the next hundred years will truly become our country's golden age.

FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION — The meeting of the Fathers of Confederation at Quebec in 1864 led to the union of the provinces in Confederation in 1867.

Macdonald acted as conference chairman and, on July 1, 1867, when the British North America Act uniting the provinces went into operation, he became the first prime minister of the Dominion of Canada.

On March 31, 1949, Newfoundland became the tenth province to enter Confederation, thus completing the unification of Canada from "sea to sea" as envisioned by the Fathers of Confederation back in 1867.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

A. MacKENZIE

On July 22, 1793 — Alexander MacKenzie successfully reached the Pacific by land. Commemorating the event at Dean Channel, MacKenzie inscribed the above message upon a large flat rock. At mouth of Bella Coola River in British Columbia, the rock has been found and the inscription restored.

LOUIS RIEL

Hero. Martyr. Rebel. He secured the entry of Manitoba into Confederation as a province rather than as a territory.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell invented the principal of the telephone in 1874. First working model two years later.

OPENING OF THE KLONDIKE — A major gold strike was made on Rabbit Creek in the Klondike on August 17, 1896. The discoverer was George W. Carmack. A few days after the discovery, Rabbit Creek became known by the more dramatic name of Bonanza.

Gold had been found many years before the great strike but in small deposits. The Carmack discovery precipitated the famous gold rush which hit its peak in the spring of 1898. It is estimated that 100,000 persons actually set out for Dawson City.

EXPLORER — THOMPSON

1770-1857: DAVID THOMPSON in May, 1807 accompanied by his wife and family, crossed the Rockies by what is now known as Howse Pass. He was the first white man to travel the full length of the Columbia River.

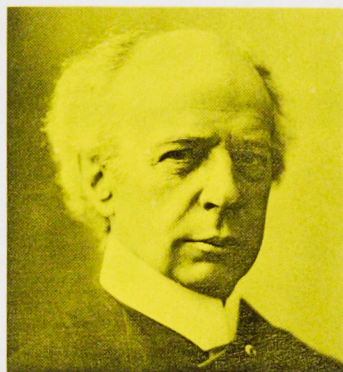

GUGLIELMO MARCONI: He sent the first wireless message, a distance of one mile in 1895. He received the first trans-Atlantic wireless message at St. John's, Nfld. in 1901.

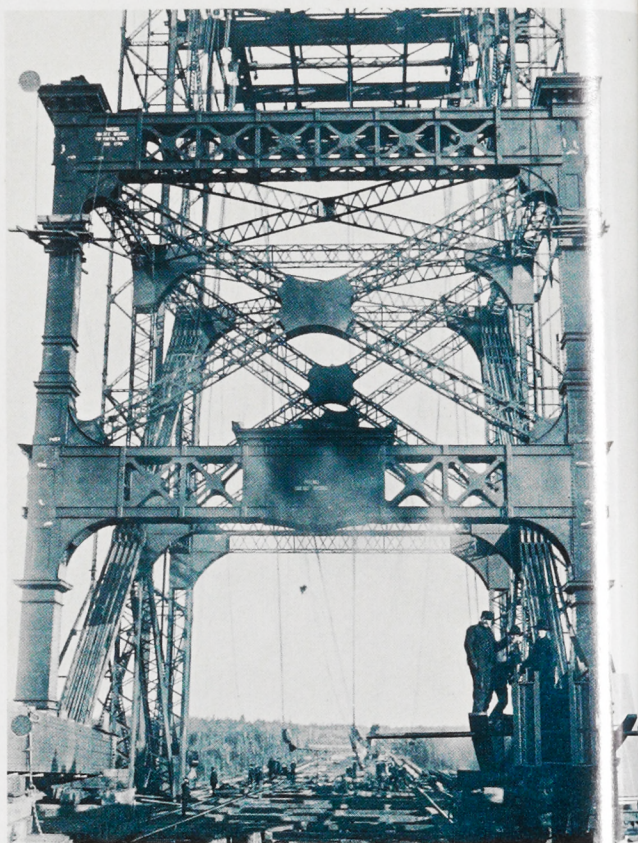

MARCONI

ROALD AMUNDSEN, in the schooner Gjoa, arrived at Nome, Alaska, the first completed traverse of the North-West Passage. He is also credited with laying down the exact location of the north magnetic pole.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER — Leader of the Canadian Liberal Party, 1887-1919; prime minister of Canada, 1896-1911. Laurier devoted his life to furthering the cause of Canadian unity.

QUEBEC BRIDGE, A HISTORY OF DISASTER — The now famous bridge was started in 1900, collapsed on August 29, 1907, killing seventy-five workmen. Reconstructed in 1913, the bridge collapsed again on September 11, 1916 killing 13 more people. The bridge was finally constructed in 1917 and has remained standing since. The bridge was constructed to link Quebec City with the trade and commerce of the south shore on the St. Lawrence.

FIRST WORLD WAR 1914-1918: On October 16, First Canadian Contingent of over 33,000 troops landed at Plymouth, England. More than four hundred thousand Canadians "proceeded overseas" to make the world safe for democracy. Fifty thousand soldiers died.

DR. FREDERICK BANTING along with his lab assistant Dr. Charles Best discovered insulin in November, 1921 for the treatment of diabetes.

WORLD WAR II — 1939-1945: In World War II a total of 1,086,771 Canadians were in uniform. It was going to be a short war; that was the feeling, it lasted six long years.

THE TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY stretches 5,160 miles joining Nova Scotia to British Columbia. Construction: 1949-1962. Cost: $625 million dollars.

WORLD WAR I hastened airplane development. Today, Canadian air carriers transport more than 5.5 million passengers a year.

CANADA'S NEW FLAG was introduced on December 15th, 1964 by the Rt. Hon. Lester B. Pearson. Officially became Canada's flag on Feb. 15th, 1965.

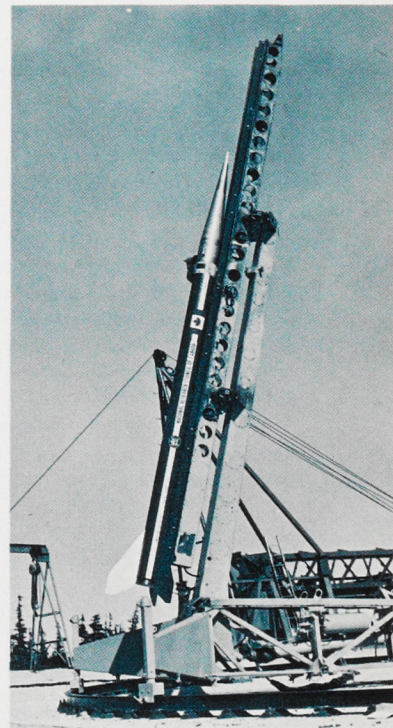

PLACE VILLE MARIE, Centennial concert halls, hundreds of private, high rise apartment buildings. Today a new wave of growth is making its mark across the nation.

COLLEGE

Advanced methods in education plus thousands upon thousands of students, are today the foundation for Canada's next one hundred years.

BLACK BRANT ROCKETS launched from the rocket range at Churchill, Manitoba measure the characteristics of the upper atmosphere.

AERIAL VIEW OF EXPO

Canada marks one hundred years of progress with Expo on Ste Helene's Island in the St. Lawrence River at Montreal.

Can you imagine for one moment this great country of ours in the year 2067? That's one-hundred years from now and if the acceleration of our growth was to maintain the same pace, Canada would still be one of the leading nations of the world — if not the leader.

But to sit and contemplate and try to forecast the future is not how this country was built, and crystal-ball gazing has never been a set formula for success. It is the wisdom, courage and action of great men like Sir John A. Macdonald, Laurier, Borden and others that has helped to make this country what it is today.

So how can we as individuals, even dare, to think about or even voice opinions on how this country will look to the eyes of the world in the next one-hundred years.

Impossible? Not really. Perhaps to look back in order to look ahead is the answer. That great span of time from 1867 to 1967 has served us well, and the accomplishments of the Canadian people have constantly multiplied over the years.

For example. From a small beginning back in 1750 a primary textile industry was established in Quebec. Today, the textile and clothing industry in Canada has a work force of 185,000 workers and the annual production in Quebec alone totals about $700 million.

In 1803, the first Canadian paper mill established near Lachute, Quebec produced paper from rags, and forty-one years later, Charles Fenety, lumberman's son of Sackville, N.S., revealed details of his discovery of how to make paper from ground pulp. This was the start of the pulp and paper industry, which today generates one dollar in eight of incomes of all Canadians. Newsprint paper is now a leading Canadian export commodity.

Canada's first motor vehicle is believed to have been an electric car built in 1893 by the Dixon Carriage Works in Toronto. In 1965 Canadian automobile assembly lines produced 710,711 cars and 144,765 commercial vehicles. At the end of 1965 the total number of vehicles in use was almost 6,725,400. In 1882 the first practical use of electricity was put into operation in a Quebec textile mill who generated its own power. Ever since, Hydro growth has continued to rise with a total output of electrical energy at a staggering 42 billion kilowatts in 1946, 134 billion in 1964 and 143 billion in 1965. Canada's first nuclear power station, a 20,000 kilowatt experimental plant at Rolphton, Ontario, opened in 1962.

In the area of transportation, Canada's first road was a ten-mile, log-surfaced stretch built by Champlain in 1606. To date, the country has more than 430,000 miles of highways, including the famous Trans-Canada Highway which stretches a total of 5,160 miles and was built at a cost of $65 million.

The first flight in Canada of a heavier-than-air machine under its own power (McCurdy's Silver Dart) took place in 1909. Today there are over 5,000 licensed aircraft, more than half of them private planes. Canadian air carriers transport more than 5.5 million passengers a year.

Back in 1867, the population of Canada was 3,689,000 with a total of 80,300 students and some 13,559 teachers in our schools. It is predicted that the student population will be 4,000,000 with 189,705 teachers out of a total population of 19,500,000 in 1967.

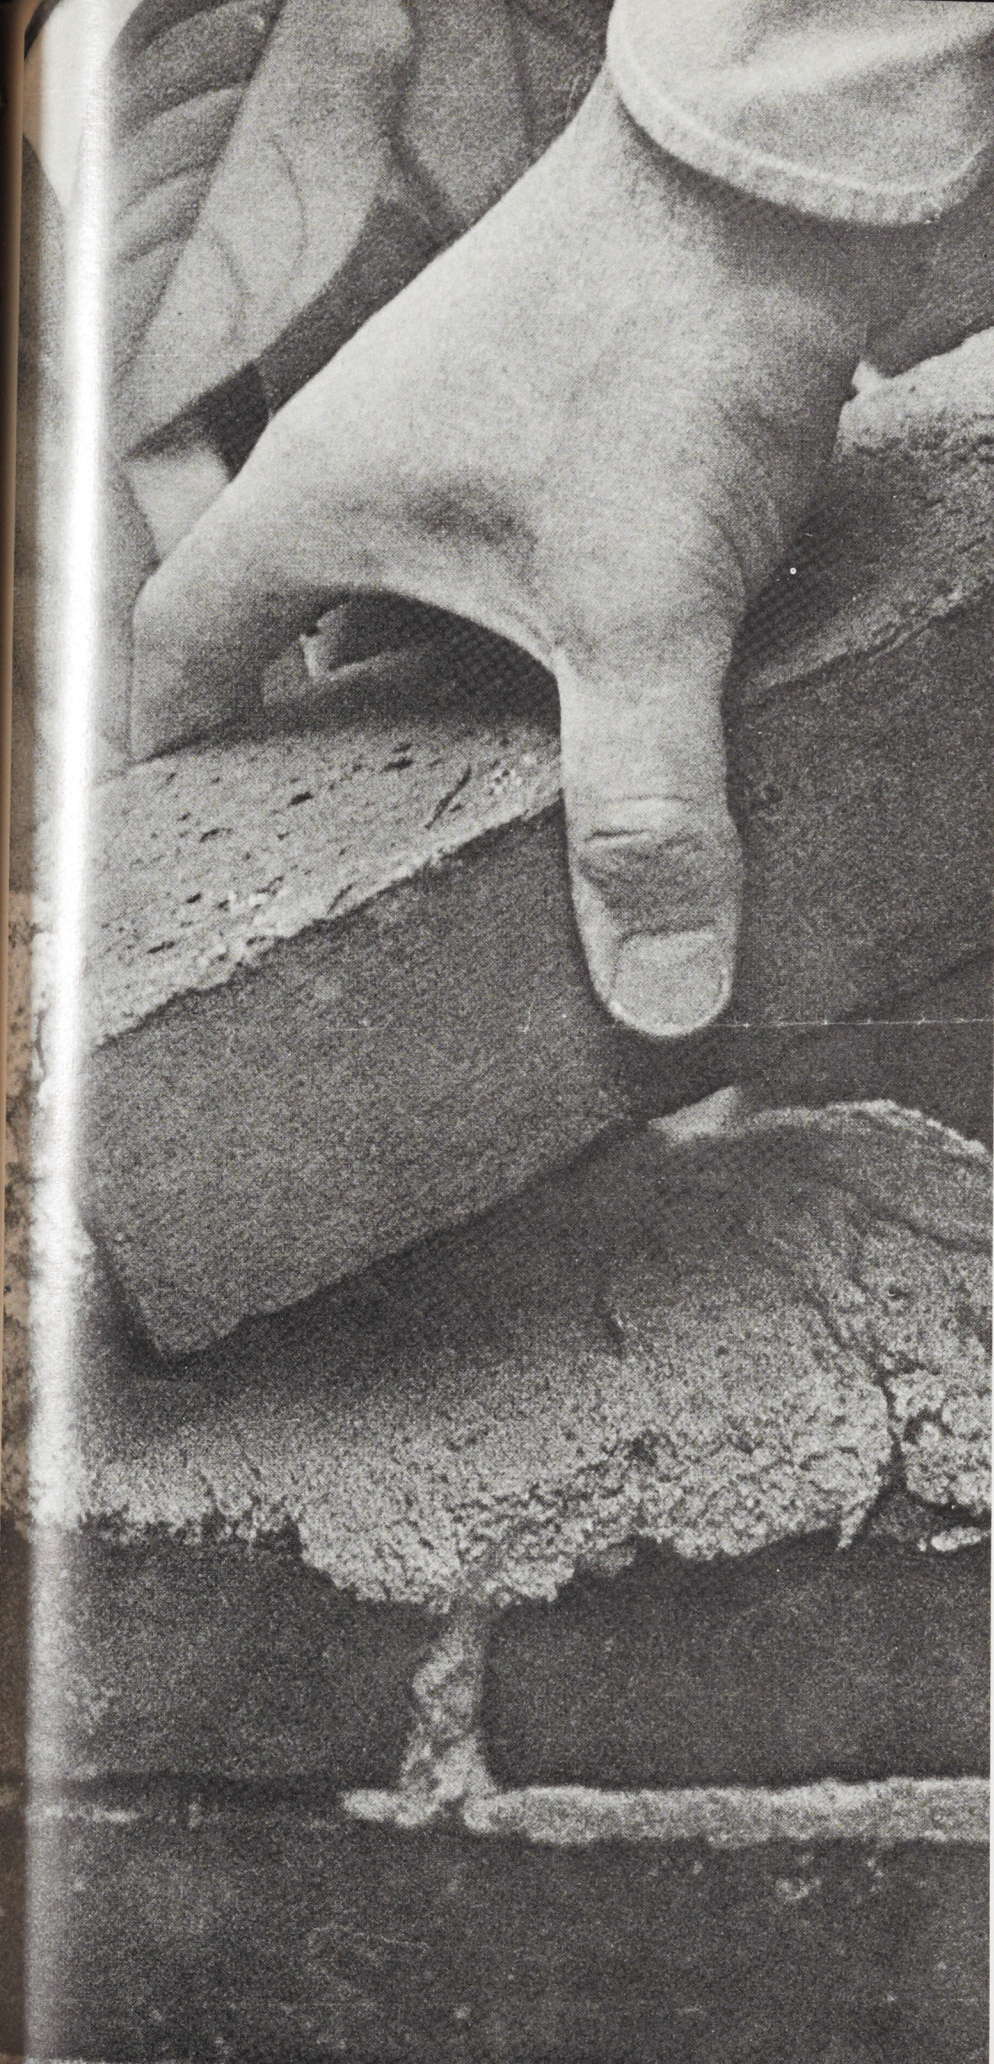

In late 1965 the Bladen commission, appointed by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, forecasted total expenditures of universities would rise from $429 million in 1963-64 to $1.3 billion in 1970-71 and to $2.0 billion in 1975-76; the commission also forecasted that enrolment would rise from 201,000 in 1965-66 to 461,000 in 1975-76, or from less than seven per cent of the 18-24 years age group to about 16 per cent.

Fact upon fact, figure upon figure, there are enough to fill a million pages and more and all of them relating to progress. Canada is still a very young country with fresh ideas and the most important quality that is synonymous with the young — AND THAT IS VITALITY.

Where does Canada go from here? For a start, during its Centennial year the country will be host to some 70 countries from April 28 to October 27 during the Expo '67 World Fair to be held in Montreal; host to over 33 different countries during the Fifth Pan-American Games to be held from July 22nd to August 7th, in Winnipeg. Aren't you proud to be a Canadian?

LOOK TO THE FUTURE...

Congratulations on a job well done! The end of a school year brings with it a sense of accomplishment, a feeling of achievement. You've worked hard for this moment . . . enjoy it. But don't lose sight of the goals of education. Look to the future, and think about continuing to learn.

There is much more to discover, much more to enjoy, and the taste of many more accomplishments to savour. You have a golden opportunity to increase your value to the community, to society in general, to the whole world. Look to the future . . . and consider carefully the prospect of continuing your education.

LOOKING AHEAD . . .

Entering Canada's second century, Young Canada looks ahead to a new century of unrivalled promise. Better ways of living, new developments in science and technology, new advances everywhere on earth and in space — it's a challenging time to be alive.

Eaton's looks ahead, too — to new ways of serving you better, new methods of retailing that will make your shopping faster and easier. (And with these new concepts of retailing, exciting new kinds of careers for enterprising young Canadians.)

It's a new century of challenge and promise for young Canada.

EATON'S

THE TOUCH OF THE MASTER'S HAND

"Twas battered and scarred, and the auctioneer
Thought it scarcely worth his while
To waste much time on the old violin,
But he held it up with a smile.

"What am I bidden, good folk?" he cried,
"Who'll start the bidding for me?"

"A dollar — a dollar — then two, only two —
"Two dollars, and who'll make it three?"

"Going for three" — but no —

From the room far back, a gray-haired man
Came forward and picked up the bow,
Then, wiping the dust from the old violin,
And tightening the loosened strings,
He played a melody pure and sweet
As a caroling angel sings.

The music ceased, and the auctioneer,
With a voice that was quiet and low,
Said, "NOW what am I bid for the old violin?"
And he held it up with the bow.

"A thousand dollars — and who'll make it two?"
"Two thousand — and who'll make it three?"

"Three thousand once — three thousand twice —
"And going — and gone," cried he.

The people cheered, but some of them cried,
"We do not understand.

"What changed its worth?" — Quick came the reply,
The touch of the Master's hand."

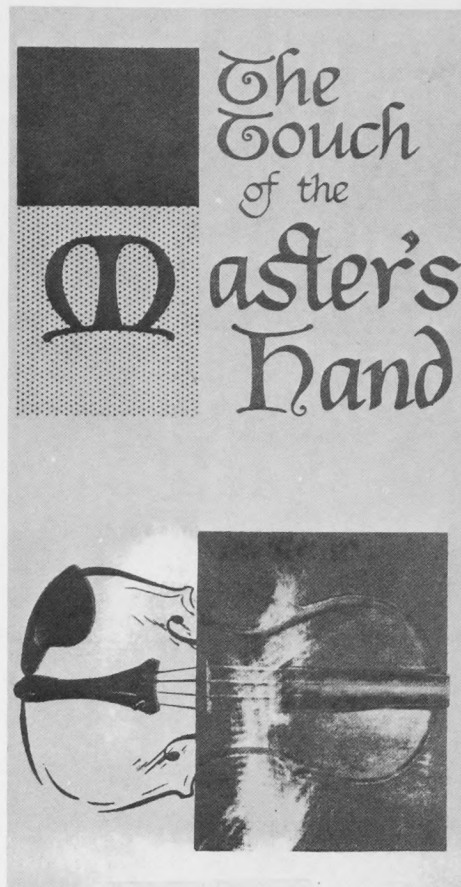

And many a man with life out of tune,
And battered and scarred with sin,
Is auctioned cheap, to a thoughtless crowd,
Much like the old violin.

A "mess of pottage" — a glass of wine,
A game — and he travels on:

He is going once — and going twice —
He's going — and almost gone!

But the Master comes, and the foolish crowd
Never can quite understand

The worth of a soul, and the change that's wrought
BY THE TOUCH OF THE MASTER'S HAND.
